California Water Service Group Publishes 2015-2016 Corporate Citizenship Report

SAN JOSE, CA -- (Marketwired) -- 11/10/16 -- California Water Service Group (NYSE: CWT) today announced that it has released its 2015-2016 Corporate Citizenship Report. Titled "Raising the Bar," the report highlights the company's efforts to enhance the quality of life for its customers, communities, employees, and stockholders, while operating in a way that respects the environment.

"Raising the Bar" showcases improvements the company's 1,125 employees made to better deliver a reliable supply of high-quality water that meets increasingly stringent water quality and environmental standards to customers around the clock, all while managing California's historic drought and mandatory water-use reductions. It also describes internal standards that drive the company to provide quality, service, and value to its California, Washington, New Mexico, and Hawaii service areas.

Other highlights in the biannual report include steps taken on affordability, community service, water quality, system reliability, supplier diversity, safety, employee development, and corporate governance. Environmental highlights include groundwater basin management, wildlife protection, energy efficiency, efforts to address climate change, water conservation, and wastewater reuse.

"Our employees share a commitment to doing the right thing for all of our stakeholders, and I am proud to be part of a company that stays true to its values," said President and CEO Martin A. Kropelnicki. "When all of us at the company are aligned with our core values, it enables us to better execute our mission to be the leading provider of water and wastewater services."
